

iBOS Community Newsletter

Copywriting and Content Excerpts, 2023 to 2024

I served as Personal Assistant & Assistant Manager at International British Online School (iBOS), where I was also the newsletter editor and copywriter. The newsletter was produced about six times a year (twice per trimester), mainly for parents, and was also sent to students and staff worldwide. I handled each issue from start to finish: sourcing and researching content from students, parents, teachers, and administrators; writing text and captions; selecting photos and imagery; compiling the layout; and routing each issue for approval by the Principal and CEO. I also created new interactive features such as the crossword shown here. Excerpts are screenshots of the newsletter as published, cropped to remove student and staff photos and names for privacy. Each caption notes authorship and issue date.

Staff Spotlight (Author's Own Feature)

Purpose: Introduces staff to the community and builds a personal connection between families and the people who teach and support their children.

iBOS Staff Perspective

Katie Taylor, PA to the Principal

I like to think of iBOS as a dynamic cross-cultural education collaboration, standing out for its dedication to building a global educational community. Working alongside colleagues and students from diverse backgrounds creates a vibrant and enriching atmosphere.

Transitioning into an administrative/personal assistant role at iBOS has been a rewarding shift, where my background in international studies and education seamlessly integrates with the school's commitment to holistic learning. Each day is a unique exploration of diverse perspectives and approaches to education.

The global blend of cultures, coupled with a shared commitment to excellence, makes every day at iBOS an inspiring adventure in education.
